

Dear Carrie,
Happy New Year!

Winter is here. It's time to relax after the holidays and start thinking about the new year. Want to make your home look beautiful and function more effectively for your life in 2010? Call on us to help make your house a home - to enjoy with family and share with friends this coming year.

Welcome The Winter Season Into Your Home

Close your eyes and picture your perfect winter home setting. What are the colors, textures and styles you see? Use this vision to update your home this season, so your house communicates the feeling you dream about for cold-weather living.

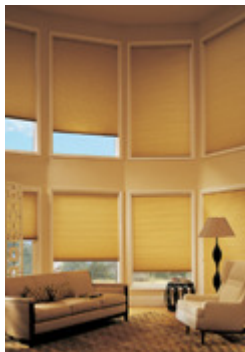

There are many ways to update your decorating scheme. Some are relatively permanent, such as changing your tile, flooring, wallcoverings, window coverings, paint or upholstery. Others can be seasonal, like adding slip covers, table linens, rugs, and bed and bath accessories. We can help you combine your permanent and seasonal decorating elements, so the colors work for the current winter season - and beyond, into spring and summer.

Update your decor this season to make your home the perfect winter environment. Then put another log on the fire and enjoy your home!

Say "Yes" To Saving Energy This Winter

Did you know... during the winter almost 40 percent of your house's heat can escape through your windows? This can account for 10 to 25 percent of your heating bill. That's why it's useful to replace single-paned windows with high-performance windows that provide better insulation.

Your window coverings can help too. Hunter Douglas Duette® Architella® honeycomb shades, with their

Winter Decorating To-Do List

Winter is a time for warm and sensory pleasures. Try these updates to give your home a cozy, winter feeling:

- Purchase slip covers in soft fabrics like chenille and velvet to create a soft haven from the harsh outside weather.
- To add color, buy a jewel-toned throw to drape over a sofa or chair.
- For a soft glow, replace your white lampshades with jewel-tone or metallic ones.
- Order beautiful, energy-efficient window fashions that not only keep your house warm, but lower your energy bills too! Hint: Hunter Douglas Duette® Architella® Honeycomb Shades.
- Repaint in rich, deep winter colors like royal blue, forest green, raspberry or patented honeycomb-within-a-honeycomb construction, are the most energy efficient, nationally branded window coverings available today. Many other Hunter Douglas window fashions provide insulation too, offering increased protection against heat loss during the winter, as well as minimizing the sun's heat during the summer.

In fact, purchasing Hunter Douglas window fashions is one of the easiest ways to "go green." Call us to learn more about stylish solutions for saving energy at the window.

chocolate. Or lighten up the house with ethereal lighter paint shades, such as sky blue, soft sage or luminescent white.

- Don't let the winter weather get you down. Uplift your spirits and calm yourself with aromatherapy and candles in soothing scents.

Enjoy Warm Winter Evenings Around The Family Fireplace

Does the ambiance around your fireplace communicate the look you'd like? Many decorative elements determine the mood of your fireplace. Take a look at the furniture nearby, the paint color on the walls, the design of your mantel, and the accessories on top of it. Are they exactly what you'd like for a cozy evening around the fire? If not, update your look.

Make your fireplace the centerpiece of your home - and your focal point for winter living. We can help with decorating ideas.

P.S. Make sure you're practicing fireplace safety. Have your fireplace and chimney inspected annually. Always use a firescreen in front of the fireplace; keep a fire extinguisher close by, and keep your smoke detectors in working condition. We encourage you to check the Internet for other fireplace safety tips.
