How To Make a Small Room Look and Feel Larger

Do you feel overwhelmed and crowded in your small room? Perhaps some easy decorating tips could help. If you want to make that small room look and feel larger, just follow these easy tips:

- Declutter: Often times too much stuff will close in a room. Take a critical eye to your room to see if you have large stacks of magazines or papers on your coffee table. Do you have extra blankets and pillows sitting around? Do you have a bookcase that is packed full?
- Add Glass: An easy way to help enlarge a room is by adding glass accents. This could be a glass top table or an accent mirror on the wall. Glass and mirrors reflect the light, adding to the appearance of a larger space.
- Paint: Darker paint colors will make a room feel cozy. Lighter paint colors reflect light and make a room feel larger.
- Window Treatments: When decorating your windows, stick with sheer draperies to let the light filter into the room. A darker, heavier fabric will close in the room and cut off the light supply. Some basic guidelines to keep in mind: vertical window fashions can add height and dignity to a room, while horizontal ones often suggest relaxation and informality.
